

On wings and water...

Aerial View of the Roanoke River Delta

The Roanoke River Delta

The premier eastern Carolina venue for winter waterfowl and bird watching. Seemingly endless pristine waterways and natural lakes, as well as unspoiled wetlands and the Pocosin Lakes wildlife refuge make Washington County and the Roanoke River-Albemarle Sound area a haven for Tundra Swans, Snow Geese and a myriad of ducks and other wetland and migratory birds.

Visit our website at GOWILDNC.COM to learn more about our natural resources and opportunities for birding, paddling, hiking and wildlife photography. We are an all-season destination featuring quality accommodations from camping to cottages, traditional lodging and B&B's for every taste and budget.
